ANNOUNCE PROGRAM FOR SACRED CANTATA

Large Choir to Contain Best Talent Town and College Afford for Cantata at Presbyterian Church Sunday Afternoon.

Grenadians of all denominations are looking forward with a great deal of interest to the sacred musicale to be presented next Sunday afternoon in the auditorium of the First Presbyterian church. At 4:30 Sunday afternoon, a wonderful musical program will be given by the choirs of the various churches.

The practice of the several choirs of the city uniting in a musical program was inaugurated several years ago and the first cantata met with such universal approval that they have been continued from time to time. The one to be presented Sunday is the second for this year, the first being an Easter service at the Presbyterian church on April 8. The best voices and the best musical talent the town affords are included in the personnel of the choir and to these are added the gifted artists from Grenada College.

SMITH WANTS NO INCREASE IN NUMBER IMMIGRANTS

New York, Oct. 22.—John J. Raskob, Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, has made public the following telegram to Dr. Hubert Work, Chairman of the Republican National Committee. The telegram was provoked by a statement made last night in Washington by Harry E. Hull, commissioner general of immigration: "Dr. Hubert Work, Chairman Republican National Committee, Washington, D. C.

"How can you support the deliberate misrepresentation which speakers for the Republican National Committee are making with respect to Governor Smith's immigration views. Governor Smith is absolutely opposed to a change in immigration laws which will permit any increase in the number of immigrants coming to this country. The present immigration law is a bipartisan measure passed by both parties. Both Smith and Hoover feel harsh provisions therein which separate families should be modified. Governor Smith in his acceptance speech stated he stands squarely on Democratic platform declaration that all laws which limit immigration must be preserved in full force and effect. In his Nashville speech Governor Smith stated that if the Republican candidate is trying to plant in anybody's mind the thought that he (Governor Smith) favors an increase in immigration he is making a very great mistake because he (Governor Smith) favors no let down at all not in the slightest degree in the present restrictive clause in the United States Immigration Act. In order to put you as responsible head of the Republican National Committee on official notice that your organization is deliberately and I think wilfully misrepresenting our candidate's attitude on this important question I send you this telegram in the hope that you will take the necessary steps to prevent any further misrepresentation in this matter."

GRENADA GRADUATES RANK HIGH IN COLLEGE WORK

There are 49 high schools in Mississippi affiliated with the All Southern Association of High Schools and Colleges, Grenada High School being one of these. Each year the scholastic records of graduates of these schools who are in college are computed and the standings are announced.

The 1926 graduates of these 49 schools who are attending college have an average of failure in their studies of 12.7%. Grenada high school graduates, with an average of 3.6% failure, stand sixth in the state for literary excellence.

This record is one that should please not only the faculty and patrons of the city schools but the community in general. A thorough groundwork in high school prepares the student for his college work and that those who have gone out from Grenada High are adequately prepared is attested by the above figures.

Hoover's Secretary Rebukes Gov. Bilbo

Declares Statement that Hoover Danced with Mary Booze False—Adam Asks If Mary Is to Be Invited to Inaugural Ball If Hoover Wins.

Washington, Oct. 20.—Governor Theodore G. Bilbo, of Mississippi, was the recipient today of a stinging message of censure from Herbert Hoover's general headquarters because of a statement attributed to him that the Republican presidential nominee had danced with a negro woman of Mississippi—a statement which was branded as "indecent" and "unqualifiedly false".

George Akerson, Mr. Hoover's assistant, took cognizance of remarks credited to the governor in Southern newspapers and dispatched to him one of the sharpest messages of the campaign. It bristled with expressions of indignation and asserted that "no more untruthful and ignoble assertion was ever uttered by a public man in the United States than that attributed to you."

"You are quoted by the press in the South." Akerson said in his telegram, "as having stated in a public address that Herbert Hoover on one of his flood relief trips got off the train at Mound Bayou, Mississippi, and paid a call on a colored woman and later danced with her.

"That statement is unqualifiedly false. There is not the slightest foundation for it. It is the most indecent and unworthy statement in the whole bitter campaign."

Asserting that he was with Hoover "every hour of the four months while he was engaged in the flood," the nominee's assistant declared that the then secretary of commerce "gave all that was in him*to a task necessitating experience and influence which no other man in the United States possessed and for which the gratitude of the state of Missisippi was unanimously expressed by its leglature."

Akerson said Hoover was never in Mound Bayou except for a three-minute stop of his train there and that he never left the platform of the train, but received a memorial from the negro people of that vicinity "for the service he had rendered their race."

Jackson, Miss., Oct. 22.—Today, Lt. Governor and acting governor Bidwell Adam sent the following telegram to Mr. Hoover's aide:

"Hon. George Akerson,
"Assistant to Hon. Herbert Hoover
"Washington, D. C.

"I have read in the newspapers your attack on Governor Bilbo of Mississippi because of his alleged reference to Herbert Hoover having danced at Mound Bayou, Miss. with Mary Booze, negro national Republican committeewoman from Mississippi. You deny that Hoover danced with Mary at Mound Bayou and say that Herbert did not attend any social function while on his tour of flood relief duty. Since Governor Bilbo is absent from the state and I am acting governor in his absence, I should like to ask you the following question: If Hoover should be elected president of the United States woud he invite Mary or any other negro woman to his inaugural ball and if so would he dance with a negro woman? This question is asked because your denial apparently is bssed on the grounds that Hoover did not attend a social function while on flood relief work and not because of the allegation that he had danced with a negro woman.

"BIDWELL ADAM,
"Lieutanent and Acting Governor"

Gov. Bilbo has not yet made public his reply to Mr. Akerson's message. The Governor was on the eve of his departure for some point in Louisiana where he was to take the Al Smith side in a joint debate, when the message came.

REV. SAM STEELE WILL VOTE FOR DEMOCRATS

Abuse of Smith by Protestant Preachers Causes Venerable Minister to Declare Self for Democratic Party Nominees.

The following is an excerpt from "Creole Gumbo", an interesting feature appearing regularly in the Sunday Commercial Appeal over the signature of Rev. Sam Steele, retired Methodist clergyman. It is so pertinent just at this time that The Sentinel is passing it on to its readers:

"I am 79 years old today, Oct. 5. I have been a Methodist preacher for 60 years, retired from active service a few years past. I want to say that I bow my head in sorrow and in shame at the un-Christian bigotry and intolerance being displayed in the present political campaign. It is utterly foreign to the teaching and spirit of Jesus Christ and bodes no good to our country. As I do not approve Gov. Smith's attitude toward prohibition, I had about decided not to vote in this election; but the abuse of the Catholics by Protestant preachers has about changed my mind. Our American Catholic brethren have as much right here as we have; have given ample proof of their patriotism, and certainly in the present campaign have set us Protestants a good example by their non-interference with politics. I do not know of a Catholic priest or prelate who has, either from the pulpit or the press, taken any hand in trying to influence the election, though one of the candidates is a member of their church. I admire this attitude of the Catholics as much as I deplore the intolerance of certain Protestant preachers, who, forsaking their high calling to proclaim a gospel of love, vomit their acrid prejudice from their pulpits and make themselves heralds of hate. If I were not a Christian, such preachers would never make me one.

"Since these political parsons have provoked me to utter my sentiments, I'll say another thing. I am too shy to bite at the bait the Methodists bishops are dangling in the pool. The idea that Hoover will enforce prohibition is as illusory as a mirage on the Arizona plains. He has not said he would. As far as I have seen, he has only promised to carry out the policies of President Coolidge, and we know what that has been for prohibition enforcement. Hoover's order placing white and black on equality in his department in Washington was a bid for negro political support; but that order was in perfect keeping with the principles and policies of the Republican party. I am a white man, and I am going with the white folks, if I have to ride the donkey with his tail stiff with cockle-burs. The elephant is too greasy for me. I don't see how the Methodist bishops are going to hold on to the slick old beast. I don't like the smell of the animal, either. So the Hoover people who are sending me their literature are wasting their time and their money, though they may have plenty of the latter, for major, captain, anything but Parson Straton made a speech in Shreveport last week, and pocketed over $600, so they say. I would see my arm severed from my body before I would help to split the solid south. It is the citadel of white civilization. I am a friend to the negroes, and as I see it, nothing could be more disastrous for them than for them to be duped by the Republicans to become active in politics in the south. The relations between the white and black people that are friendly now will be embittered, and the progress the negroes are making now will be arrested, and trouble will come on every hand. I know that in expressing these sentiments I displease many of my Methodist friends. I'm sorry, but this is a time when everyone must show his colors. Mine are white, bordered with blue, the emblem of purity and truth."

OSCAR F. BLEDSOE VISITS GRENADA

Hon. Oscar F. Bledsoe, of Greenwood, made a hurried visit to Grenada Tuesday afternoon, having run over in about 45 minutes on the new graveled highway in his car to look after some matters about his farm, "Montevallo", joining the western limits of the city of Grenada. Mr. Bledsoe is one of the most successful planters in the delta, and some of his good friends have said of him that he can command more ready "cash" than any other man in the delta. His farm is at Shellmound, eight miles up the Tallahatchie river from Greenwood. Not only is he a successful farmer but has shown that he is sagacious and farseeing when it comes to other big business enterprises. He is president of the Delta Long Staple Cotton Association, a corporation which has been operating for several years and which has got far beyond the experimental stage. The Delta Long Staple Cotton Association is the key plan for marketing the cotton crop and its plans are in a large measure destined to be copied by the southern farmers if they ever market their cotton in an orderly manner.

Mr. Bledsoe was born in Grenada, being a son of the late Col. O. F. Bledsoe. He removed with his father and family to the delta when he was twelve years of age. Grenada is glad to claim him as one of her own.

Denley Says So[illegible]s Have Not Done [illegible]uch

State Senator Predicts [illegible]d of Legislative Session by Middle of Next Week—Revenue and Road Measures Have Taken Time.

(By Senator G. E. Denley)

Jackson, Miss., Oct. 24.—The fourth week of the extraordinary session is passing into history and the end not yet. I had thought that this week would bring the session to a close but just at this time it looks a little doubtful, however it is yet possible. I think probably it will be the middle of next week. As the last regular session was a record breaker from the standpoint of length, this will perhaps be also for an extra session.

While almost four weeks have passed since the convening yet nothing has been accomplished that amounts to very much. The revenue measure as passed by the house the first week has at last been presented to the senate and in part passed insofar as the 2 mills for pensions and 6 mills for state purposes are concerned but the tax placed on cigars, cigarettes and numerous other things seems unpopular in the senate, and so far the ones that have been considered have been voted down.

I have all along opposed any form of nuisance tax as a means of raising revenue and while I dislike very much to vote to raise the advalorem yet believe that this is the only honest, fair and just method of financing the state. To save an extra session with its dangers and unnecessary expense I voted last spring for a nuisance tax, against my judgment and conscience both, but am fixed in my opinion that I will not do so any more. I think this method of trying to raise revenue would cause more red tape and expense than it would be worth, aside from the fact that it is wrong, both in practice and principle.

Much time has been taken up in the senate in the consideration and passage of the sixty million dollar road bond issue. Several days have been consumed in discussing and amending this measure that passed Tuesday evening by a small margin. All apparently favor a hard surface road program but somehow it is hard to find a plan that meets the favor of a majority. If this, as passed by the senate, reaches the house the consensus of opinion is that it will fail. This was a very long bill and it was hard to get its full meaning. It contained many objectionable features for some localities and, in my judgment, if passed, would be a long time in bringing any relief to the people who have been waiting all this time for some help in giving them a better system of roads.

I had hoped that some plan of road building could and would be arranged that would give us a statewide system of roads and believe that in the near future this will be done. Should this plan fail as I think it will, another will probably be forthcoming that will be more satisfactory. In fact one is now pending in the house known as the Stansell bill that is apparently more popular than the Whittington bill that passed the senate Tuesday. Unless the house does pass this bill as passed by the senate it is hardly probable that a measure will be passed at this session but no doubt by 1930 a plan will be worked out that will give to the state a system of road building that will prove satisfactory to all the state.

While everyone believes that but few more days remain of this session yet the revenue measure that will be given the governor to sign will be practically the same as he vetoed last spring and which the senate failed to pass over his veto. When this is presented for his approval and he should veto as he probably will, then something else will have to happen. From an undercurrent it is apparent that an agreement has been reached whereby the senate will pass the measure over his veto thus relieving him of the responsibility. There is likewise an undercurrent in the house that should he veto they will refuse to override the veto. So there you are, and until it is all over and the last gavel has sounded no one can tell when, how or where it will end. Here's hoping however that in my next letter I will be able to write "finis" as to this extraordinary session of the state legislature.

Legislators Still Searching For More Things To Be Taxed

"Onlooker" Thinks If Road Law Enacted It Will Be Compromise Measure and That Commissioners Will Be Elected by People—Whittington and Stansell Bills Compared—Proposition to Collect Taxes Twice in 1929 Characterized as "Tax Collecting Absurdity"—National Politics Mentioned—Legislature Playing Hide and Seek.

Jackson, Miss., Oct. 24, 1928.

Editor Sentinel:-

Between Al Smith and the pious parsons, and the few who blindly follow them and the legislature, Jackson is having its daily thrills—"thrills", by the way, is a very popular word just now with some of the younger set who seek to justify some rather hazardous social stunts.

"Onlooker" has certainly been looking of late, and still more, he has been hearing.

The legislature yet does not know where it will "get off". It should be required that no appropriation for anything, outside of the salaries of the members, could be made until the lawmaking body fixed its revenue requirements.

This jumping jack business in revenue hunting looks bad for the state. The Governor has recommended no well defined measure; he has chosen to shift the responsibility to the legislators. Yet he has stood with that cruel veto which the constitution very wisely places in his hands and decapitated measures not to his liking.

It appears that the Insane Hospital is to remain where it is at least for two more years unless either the building commission or the Governor backs down. The unfortunate situation comes about because the commission planned more largely and spent more lavishly than was agreed upon and promised when the law for removal was passed. The Governor was justified in his veto of the additional appropriation had he not said that if he were given control of the commission, he would approve the measure for the additional estimated funds.

The big thing on deck now is the highway measure. The Whittington bill has been shot through the senate. It now goes to the house.

If the bill had at first carried a provision for the election of the highway commissioners by the people, the road bill would be much nearer a law. Many are wondering why, if the people elect the governor, all the judges of the courts and all other officers, should they be denied the right to elect highway commissioners who will have charge of spending more money than all the other state officers together. Why? Gov. Bilbo made a concession a few days ago when he proposed that both houses of the legislature should pass upon highway commission appointments.

Several highway measures are pending in the house. One has been jointly offered by Hon. J. N. Provine of Grenada County and representatives Stansell and Parish. Mr. Stansell is an engineer and his word seems to go a long way in the house on road matters. Some one has prepared the following comparative features of the Whittington and the Stansell bills:

WHITTINGTON SENATE BILL	STANSELL HOUSE BILL
Appointive Commission	Elective Commission
$60,000,000 Bonds	No Bonds
$48,005,000 Interest	No Interest
Indefinite Districts disconnected	Districts definitely fixed and connected
Six year program with great possibilities of waste and extravagance	Ten year program to build approximately same amount of road more economically.
Go into it	Grow into it
Takes away part of county money after construction begins	Takes nothing from counties but gives ½c more gas money
Program ends in 6 years or calls for more bonds.	Program continues indefinitely without bonds.
Does not match county money	Matches county money as Federal Aid now matches State money
Primary System laid out without reference to Federal Aid roads.	Present Federal Aid 7% System plus about 300 miles constitutes the primary roads.
Fixes a debt of $108,005,000 upon tax payers according to Governor Bilbo's figures submitted to the Legislature.	No debt.

Naturally there is much scrambling by interested ones from every section of the state to get roads on as "primary" and as "secondary".

Friends of the Whittington bill urge that no state has ever put on a general hard surfaced road building program without bond issues, and they insist that in a few years the gasoline tax and the automobile tag tax will take care of all bond charges. It seems safe at this writing to say that the bill, if it passes the house, will be considerably emasculated, and that the final outcome will show a hybrid law—Stansell-Whittington. It is almost certain, too, that the house is going to insist that the commissioners be elected by the people.

The proposition to require the people of Mississippi to pay taxes in 1929 on or before the first day of February and for the year 1930 on or before the first day of November 1929, or twice within one year, is generally regarded as a tax collecting absurdity. A level headed farmer who does not dabble in politics and who resides some miles from Jackson was heard to remark the other day at one of the local hotels, "the plan to collect taxes twice in one year in order to help the legislature out of a hole is like milking the cow twice before she is allowed to eat".

If you have a garment or anything that has not yet been taxed, or if you are doing anything worth while upon which you are not paying a privilege tax, you had best lie low until the legislature adjourns.

A legislative game of hide and seek is on.

ONLOOKER.

FIRE AT COMPRESS

Fire of unknown origin, did slight damage to four bales of cotton in the Grenada compress early Sunday night. The blaze was discovered by Ernest West, night watchman, and he, with the aid of others, had the flames under complete control in a few minutes.

When the fire department was summoned, the driver of the fire truck had to completely wreck the front of Juchheim's trim shop, where the truck is kept, to keep from crashing into an automobile which someone had thoughtlessly parked immediately in front of the entrance to the building. The driver, The Sentinel feels, should be commended for his presence of mind in following the course he did. He could have crashed into the car but if it had had any occupants they might have been seriously injured. Instead of doing that, however, he headed directly into the front walls of the building, at considerable personal risk, tearing down doors, windows and posts. The truck was not damaged.

Just as the fire truck was nearing the compress, a lumber truck, driven by a negro and carrying seveal passengers, crashed into the fire truck, the accident occurring at the corner of Kershaw and Third Streets. No one was hurt in this accident.

The city has an ordinance on its books that prohibits automobiles or other vehicles parking in the same block in which a fire is blazing, but this ordinance is now and has been, almost continually since its passage, flagrantly violated. A stiff fine imposed on a few of the violators will serve to cool some of the enthusiasm for witnessing a fire in Grenada.

Your fire losses are paid promptly when your insurance is placed with Hoffa & Moody.

FREED OF MURDER CHARGE, REARRESTED FOR RETAILING

Luther Woods, negro, tried Tuesday at Leflore before Esquire W. K. Gray, for the killing of his younger brother, Sherman Woods, at Leflore on Oct. 16, was freed of the murder charge since it was established conclusively that the dead negro was the aggressor in the difficulty and that the defendant fired only after he had been twice wounded by his brother.

The negro was fined $50 on the charge of carrying concealed weapons and he was also arrested on the charge of retailing liquor. He is being held in the Grenada jail and will be turned over to federal prohibition officers.

It is understood that the two Woods negroes have been engaged in the liquor business for some time, the elder of the two distilling the product and the younger serving their customers. It seems that the argument which resulted in the younger one's death arose over a division of the proceeds of sales.

Leflore, which has long been noted for its whiskey vendors, is about devastated of moonshiners and bootleggers, the activities of county and federal officers having just about cleaned them out.

Annual Conference Convenes Next Week

Pontotoc Will Be Host to Gathering of Methodists. Grenada Regrets that Rev. E. S. Lewis, Completing 4 Years Here, Will Not Return.

The North Mississippi Conference of the M. E. Church, South, which is due to convene next week at Pontotoc, will be presided over by Bishop Warren A. Candler of Atlanta, Ga., the Senior Bishop of the Southern church and one of the very ablest ones.

Many changes will no doubt be made in the location of the preachers. The annual conference is always the beginning of "moving day" with many of the ministers. Up until a few years ago, four years was the legal limit of the time any minister of the church could serve one charge or one district. That limitation was removed, nevertheless it was decreed that it was regarded as the best policy for the church to still adhere to the four year limitation except under the most extraordinary circumstances. It is therefore almost a certainty that Grenada district will have a new presiding elder, the present presiding elder, Rev. E. S. Lewis, now ending his quadrennium.

Grenada particularly will regret that Mr. Lewis and his excellent wife are to move. There is not a finer spirited man in all the church than Rev. E. S. Lewis. He meets every standard of culture and refinement and is sincere and truly in earnest about his work in the ministry. He is justly regarded as one of the leading, men of the conference and as one of its ablest ministers. It is understood that his work as presiding elder is classed as being right at the head of the list. He is deservedly and universally popular throughout the district and has the very best wishes of Grenada as well as of those of his church that he may get an assignment thoroughly in keeping with the prestige he enjoys and one considered as one of the best of the conference. Mrs. Lewis has proved a most valuable adjunct to the Grenada church and has a host of warm and loving friends here who will regret that it becomes necessary for her and Mr. Lewis to move elsewhere.

Rev. J. H. Holder is closing out his second year as pastor of the Grenada church and it is taken for granted that he will be returned; to do otherwise would be a great disappointment to his congregation as well as to the entire town. Mr. Holder is a deeply consecrated man and is desperately in earnest about making his ministry a real spiritual help and counselor for the community. His pulpit deliverances meet with general favor. He is active as a pastor and is one of the first always at the bedside of the sick or to visit those in distress or sorrow. He believes in working "while it is yet day" realizing that "the night cometh when no man can work". He is always thoughtful and duly deferential and is energetic in all he does. Mrs. Holder is truly a helpmeet. She is a great help to her husband and fills most admirably the place of a pastor's wife. She is a fine character.

The Sentinel but expresses the wish of the entire community in stating that it is hoped and believed that Mr. Holder will again be named for the Grenada church.

It is universally conceded that Dr. J. R. Countiss will again be made president of Grenada College. There is not an abler man in all the conference than Dr. Countiss. He has made more than a signal success at the college. His pulpit deliverances always furnish food for wholesome thought. He says things that are worth while.

Grenada has been glad to number Rev. E. G. Mohler, rural Sunday School supervisor, among her citizens, and it is hoped that he will be returned. Mr. Mohler is energetic about his work and is a most conscientious man and is undoubtly meeting every requirement of the important position he holds.

A CANDIDATE WAS NEVER BEFORE SO MALIGNED, TRADUCED AND SLANDERED.

Never before in all the history of the United States from the time of George Washington up to now has a candidate for the presidency been so maligned, traduced, slandered and blackmailed as Al Smith has been. He is painted as wanting to undermine the very mudsills of the Republic. He is pictured as being more a believer in the head of his church than in the blessings of his own government. How much the latter charge is prompted by the jealousy of many Baptist and Methodist clergymen is only a guess, but suffice it to say that they would be delighted to have that sort of faith reposed in them.

He has been cartooned as a drunkard, as a breaker up of homes and as an enemy of public education.

It is charged that he came from a parentage so low as to be by birth unfit for the White House.

It has been "grapevined" that his wife is "common" and that her presence in the White House would discredit the Nation.

Smith is held up to public scorn and ridicule by men and women who claim to be heirs of God and joint heirs with the Lord and Savior Jesus Christ because he believes in his mother and in his mother's religion, and because he united with the church of which his mother was a member—a church which believes that Jesus is the Son of God and that there is no other way given under heaven or among men whereby men and women can be saved from their sins except through Christ.

Al Smith is being persecuted by churchmen because he does not belong to their church, yet these same ones preach that love is the fulfilling of the law. No explanation is offered as to how they can reconcile "feed my sheep" with abusing and misrepresenting "my sheep".

Most of these persecutors will deny that they are against Smith because of his church, yet they hide behind the Ku Klux while confederating with them, and some of them forget that they have told many in confidence that they "cannot tolerate Smith's religion". They will openly declare that "we are against him because of prohibition and because the prohibition law has not been enforced in New York state". In making this charge they seem to forget they have time after time charged with almost blazing tongues that the prohibition law is not being enforced right under their nose. These men know that it is not being enforced in Mississippi, in Memphis, in Chicago, in Philadelphia or any other town, city or state of the whole Union. Law-enforcement in Al Smith's state, with the pious prejudiced, is one thing and in another state another.

Hands are held heavenward in holy horror about Tammany's alleged graft, a thing that not a one of them or a thousand of them, can prove or have offered to prove, while proved graft among cabinet officers and in Philadelphia, Chicago and Indiana is an act of "Mary's little lamb".

All good citizens believe in law-enforcement and likewise in law-observance. No man interested in his home, in his neighbor and in the future of the present generation would have the saloon back with all its damnable and blackening influence. Al Smith stands with these. But none except those who refuse to see will deny that whiskey is being sold throughout the land; the demon is loose; Al Smith says halter him. The ultras may drive thousands, yea millions of good men, to extremes to which they would not go, by their efforts to bring into practice the persecutions of the 17th century. They may injure the very cause which they claim is more important than the suppression of graft, treason and spoils by the bludgeon methods which they are using.

Al Smith's four terms as Governor of New York during which time no crookedness or graft has ever been charged against him and during which time a Republican legislature has never been able to override his veto nor has it failed to confirm any of his hundreds of appointments—all these things are naught with those who would nullify the constitution of the United States to defeat him.

The greatest campaign in the history of the country is fast reaching a climax. Tuesday, Nov. 6, at 6 p. m., it will all be over but the shouting.

BISHOP CANNON HAS NOT ANSWERED GLASS' SKINNING.

Bishop Cannon, having laid aside his supposed business of saving human souls and plunged headlong into the maelstrom of politics because, forsooth, the Democratic candidate did not sit at his feet and echo his (Cannon's) views on the question of prohibition or the liquor traffic, has not yet undertaken to answer the verbal skinning United States Senator Carter Glass, of Virginia, a Democrat and a member of the Methodist church, gave him in a recent speech in which he charged that the bishop was using funds contributed by all the members of the Methodist church to propagate sentiment against Gov. Al Smith. Senator Glass, among other things, said that matter was being published with "funds of the church contributed by the members generally to purvey ecclesiastical defamation of designated members together with hundreds of thousands of other loyal laymen who, at the ensuing election, will refuse to follow Bishop Cannon's trek into the camp of a political party, the shocking immoralities of which but recently startled the Nation."

Bishop Cannon is a Virginian. Senator Glass is a Virginian. Will what Bishop Cannon is doing make Senator Glass any better Christian or any more loyal in his adherence to the Methodist church? Will there be, can there be, that spiritual cooperation so necessary between these two great leaders in church matters to come up after this election?

Bishop Cannon was at the Democratic convention at Houston when Smith was nominated; he sat with the platform committee all night; he got a prohibition plank which he then stated suited him—and Al Smith pledges his most sacred honor to carry out that platform pledge—but because Al Smith was big enough, courageous enough and patriotic enough to state his own convictions, Bishop Cannon bolts the ticket while Carter Glass keeps the faith.

Oh, these misguided religious zealots tell us, "Al Smith has not enforced the law in New York and we do not regard his promise worth anything to enforce the prohibition law if he becomes president".

Brethren, have you stopped to think that it is not being enforced in Washington City, under the very dome of the Nation's Capital? Don't you know that it is not being enforced in Philadelphia, in Chicago, in New Orleans, in Memphis or even in Grenada?—no it is not being enforced anywhere in this broad land of ours. The infractions of the prohibition law have got many honest, sincere-minded, looking-ahead, real temperance people seriously revolving in their minds the question, "Is there not some better way to handle the liquor question?" Al Smith has reached the conclusion that there is and is big enough to say so. Our own opinion is that whether now or years later, the federal government will have to take over the dispensing of intoxicating liquors.

We are a prohibitionist. We are for temperance. The saloon is the most damnable influence that ever existed in America. Gov. Smith says as much and states that he would never consent for it to come back.

But back to the bishop. It was charged by the anti-unificationists, when the question of the uniting of the Northern and Southern Methodist churches was being considered two years ago, that the bishops leading the movement (and Bishop Cannon was one of them) had a sinister eye on some of the huge fortunes being allotted to the churches of the North. We were for unification and regarded the charge as wholly baseless, nevertheless the action of Bishop Cannon and some other bishops in this presidential campaign lends a color of truth to the charge. Bishop Cannon is getting the sine qua non somewhere.

LEGISLATIVE BEWILDERMENT.

The legislature is struggling with an acute case of diarrhoeic appropriations. It comes not altogether of what this particular body has done but of what two or three of its predecessors have done. Appropriations have been made but now the question is, "How shall we get the money out of the pockets of the people to make good what we have appropriated?" There has been a reckless abandon about making appropriations for a number of years. The legislator who voted for every appropriation presented has been patted on the back and told that he is a "progressive"; "you, sir, are one who believes in putting your state in the forefront and who holds that our institutions should be supported as liberally as those of any other state. You want to develop our resources; keep up that record old fellow and we will make you governor".

While this alluring and vanity appealing argument is being poured into the ears of the untutored and inexperienced legislator, he forgets, if he ever knew, that Mississippi is the poorest state in the Union per capita and that when he is told that Mississippi should appropriate money as liberally as Iowa, North Carolina, Tennessee or Illinois, he is being asked to do the very thing that John Doe's wife does when she wants to spend as lavishly on her wardrobe as John Smith's wife whose husband is earning five times as much as John Doe.

The Governor refuses or fails to suggest any way out. The legislature is hemmed in with a possible veto. The Governor has kept himself in an attitude to say that whatever good happens he approves and whatever unpopular is done, he did not recommend. Makeshifts and subterfuges are the legislative order of the day.

The outsider who looks in on Mississippi and sees the true inwardness of public affairs as reflected by the Governor and the legislature, certainly will hardly form a favorable opinion of the commonwealth, and the business man cannot escape the conclusion that there is too much fickleness about taxation for him to risk making any heavy investments within the state. As it is today so has the picture been for a half score of years.

HOOVER'S TELEGRAM ABOUT MARY BOOZE.

For the sake of the state of Mississippi we regret that Gov. Bilbo slipped a cog in his Memphis speech in charging that Herbert Hoover danced with Mary Booze. The telegram from Mr. Hoover's secretary, sent upon his authority, is not a bit ambiguous and carries every mark of absolute sincerity. Gov. Bilbo was no doubt accepting second-hand statements when he gave the charge his endorsement.

We also regret that Lt. Gov. Bidwell Adam sent the telegram he is credited with having sent of the 22nd. He is making even a worse mistake than Gov. Bilbo did.

There are too many big things in this campaign for it to be entangled in the meshes of little things. We never thought that Herbert Hoover almost ranted over Mary Booze, as he was charged with having done, and we do not believe that he would efface racial lines. His telegram about the alleged Mary Booze dance shows that.

BILLY SUNDAY TURNS ASIDE FROM SOUL SAVING TO POLITICS.

The Reverend Honorable Generalissimo Billy Sunday, hippodrome evangelist, who requires some twenty-five or thirty thousand dollars to visit a town to hold a "revival meeting", has laid his ministerial duties aside for the time being and is going the rounds to bombard Al Smith and Joe Robinson. No statement is made as to whether Billy is losing money by his new venture.

We have frequently thought of Billy Sunday and the many lesser lights who go up and down the country with a circus tent armed with singers and dingers. We have thought that Billy and others of his kind were doing great good, yet somehow we have not for several years been able to suppress the thought that often intruded itself on our mind as to why it takes so much money to get a few weeks' preaching out of these fellows. Many others have had similar meditations. If we remember correctly, when Billy was in Memphis about two years ago, he raked in altogether about $35000 for the four weeks' pulpit deliverances. Others of less renown do not require so much, but these evangelists are a pretty costly clerical luxury. They all take all they can get and frequently nudge for more. Taken as a whole, we believe that the average evangelist has hurt the cause of the church. Sam Jones was the pioneer; most others are Sam's imitators.

Therefore the dollar and cents part of Bill Sunday's political labors must not be lost sight of.

PREACHER EDITOR GETS A SKINNING.

The Sentinel's attention has been directed to a communication in a recent issue of the Louisville Courier Journal over the signature of B. F. Berry of Murray, Kentucky, in which he gives one Rev. H. B. Taylor a veritable verbal skinning. Taylor edits a newspaper at Murray which he calls "News and Truths". He also has a side line of preaching in the Baptist church. This correspondent calls him many things and plainly says the preacher is a modern Ananias. He is fighting Gov. Al Smith from every angle.

Berry quotes Senator Pomerene of Ohio who only a few days ago made a speech in Murray and denounced the editor-preacher. The correspondent charges that Taylor arraigned President Wilson because of the war with Germany, that he fought the draft and advised his congregation to evade it, that he opposed the Red Cross and all war drives, and that since the war he was sent to jail for holding preaching services when the authorities had ordered all public gatherings to cease with the hope of getting control of the flu which was killing its thousands throughout the land. The correspondent proclaims himself a Protestant, a Mason and an Al Smith Democrat.

Outside of what was said of Preacher Taylor, the man must be a pretty good fellow, as a Jew once said to a man who had called him many unprintable things.

Moral: Preacher Taylor has discredited the cause that should be first in his mind and has crippled the usefulness of his own church, and we dare say made Al Smith more supporters.

NO APOLOGIES TO MAKE.

We have no apologies to make nor excuses to render for supporting the straight Democratic ticket. We think Governor Alfred E. Smith one of the nation's greatest executives and we are confident he will, if elected, with his able, frank and fearless leadership, make one of the greatest presidents the country has ever had.

Senator Joseph T. Robinson, of our own southland, is an able running mate for the New York governor. He has few if any equals as a parliamentarian and there is none better qualified than he to preside over the deliberations of the United States Senate. If the Democratic ticket wins, the country may rest assured that that obscurity into which so many vice-presidents have fallen will not apply to Joe Robinson. He will be heard from.

The Democrats in convention at Houston could have picked no better equipped pair to head their party in the national campaign now fast drawing to a close.

The statement in the daily press of Monday of Governor Smith that he would, if elected, abolish the "White House spokesman'" is characteristic of the man. The New York governor has demonstrated in his private life and public career that he has nothing to hide and that he will not need an anomymous shield for the utterances he will make as president.

In little less than two weeks it will be President-elect Smith and Vice-President-elect Robinson. Al and Joe, I told you so!

It is claimed for the overzealous Methodist ministers of the North Mississippi conference that none of them has turned aside from preaching the gospel to flay Al Smith in his pulpit. If that be true it is good for them, but we are just wondering how much of this is to be credited to a due sense of propriety upon the part of these brethren or to the mailed fist and master mind of Bishop Candler before whom the conduct of these brethren will come up for a review?

L. O. Crosby has come out in a public statement proclaiming himself for Hoover. The only new thing about it is his statement. It should have been known all the time that he was for the Republican ticket.

He was appointed head of flood control last year. At that time he could hardly wink his big toe without some mention was made of it in the press. From the fulsome statements in some of the newspapers about Mr. Crosby and the then Governor, who appointed him, one was made to understand that if these two had reached the Mississippi levee at Mounds Landing even a few minutes before the break they would have commanded the waters, like old King Canute, to stay back. Heroism and sacrifice were daily practices of these two men; Murphree and Crosby were on the job—so it was claimed. Crosby by the way, was one of the chief Murphree backers and it was he, it was stated, that furnished much of the money for the then Governor's campaign.

Nugent Says He Has Thousands of Friends Throughout State Who Will Be Glad To Hear of His Improvement.

"It's wonderful the way Sargon helped me", said E. D. Nugent, prominent retired farmeer, residing at 209 Drew St., West Monroe, La., recently.

"I'm seventy-one years old now", he continued, "and always led an active life until about five years ago. Then I got in a badly rundown condition. I was constipated and had severe pains in my stomach, caused by gas forming. My kidneys have become better which caused my rest to be broken all through the night. Mornings I would feel so weak and tired I could hardly get out of bed. Often I had darting pains in my back. I was dreadfully nervous at times.

"Ten days ago I began taking Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills, and they seemed to take hold at once. I have been greatly strengthened and feel better in every way. My kidneys have become better regulated, the pains in my back have disappeared, and I feel fine. I am not constipated like I was and am no longer nervous. I have gained five pounds.

"I have thousands of friends all over Louisiana that know a statement from me means facts—and they will be glad to hear of my remarkable improvement."

Sargon may be obtained in Grenada from the Corner Drug Store.

ON EDGE
Worried A Lot

"I took Cardui at intervals for three years, and have been in good health since last fall," says Mrs. Noble J. Hayes, of Waterloo, S. C. "My improvement after taking a course of this medicine was really remarkable.

"I am much stronger and can accomplish so much more work now. My weight increased twenty pounds, and my color is good.

"For a long time I had been feeling poorly. Some days I dragged around the house and had not enough energy to do my housework.

"I worried a lot about myself. I did not seem like myself, and my nerves were all on edge. I did not sleep well, and my appetite left me.

"I found Cardui to be an excellent tonic. After I had taken it a few weeks, I began to pick up and to gain in weight and strength."

PAUL'S LAST JOURNEY TO JERUSALEM

LESSON TEXT—Acts 20:1-21:17.
GOLDEN TEXT—Remember the words of the Lord Jesus how He said, it is more blessed to give than to receive.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Paul Tells His Friends Good-by.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—What Our Pastor Does for Us.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Paul, Shepherd of the Churches.

I.—Paul's Visit to Greece and Miletus (20:1-16).

Two incidents marked this trip:

1. The Jews laid wait for him (vv. 1-5). This plot obliged him to retrace his steps through Macedonia instead of choosing a more rapid sea voyage.

2. Fellowshiping with the disciples at Troas (vv. 6-16). He met with them around the table of the Lord and spoke words of encouragement. While preaching here, Eutychus in a deep sleep, fell from a window and was killed. Paul restored his life, thus giving to the disciples a sign of divine power which was greatly needed at that time.

II. Paul's Farewell to the Ephesian Elders (20:17-38).

1. Review of his three years' ministry (vv. 18-21). (1) The spirit of his ministry (v. 19). He was humble, tender and faithful in spite of the many trials which befell him. (2) The faithfulness of his ministry (vv. 20-21). He made known unto them everything which was of profit, taught them both in public and in private. He neglected no class, Jews or Greeks. He was impartial to all in his ministry. (3) The theme of his ministry (v. 21). Repentance and faith. Men and women need to repent of their sins and believe on the Lord Jesus Christ.

2. The present state of things (vv. 22-27). Having reviewed his ministry, he now points out clearly, (1) His immediate purpose was to go to Jerusalem (v. 22). (2) Bonds and afflictions were lying across his path (v. 23). Despite these he went forward with undaunted courage, knowing that God was leading him. (3) His fixed purpose (v. 24). He was determined to complete his ministry at whatever cost—even giving up his life. (4) His consciousness of obligation discharged (vv. 25-27). Knowing that they should see his face no more, he called them to record that he had not shunned to declare the whole counsel of God, therefore was free from the blood of all men.

3. His charge to the elders (vv. 28-35). (1) The ground of (v. 28). The flock for which they must care was purchased by the precious blood of Jesus and they received their commission from the Lord. (2) The impending evils (vv. 29, 30). False teachers would arise from their own number. Grievous wolves would devour the flock. The most deadly foes of the church are those ministers and Sunday school teachers who are unfaithful to their trust. (3) Incentives to faithfulness (vv. 31-35). His own example of watching night and day for three years is held up before them; his unselfish services, laboring with his own hands night and day that he might be free from suspicion of selfishness.

III. Paul Tarrying Seven Days at Tyre (21:1-6).

The destination was Jerusalem. He was pressing thitherward with all speed, but on account of the unloading of the ship he was obliged to wait at Tyre for seven days. During this delay he searched out the disciples who lived in that city. While here certain disciples said Paul should not go to Jerusalem. The information which these disciples received by the Spirit was doubtless the same as that given to Agabus (vv. 10, 11). Agabus told exactly what the Spirit said, which sets right what the Tyrian disciples seemed to say. We should give heed to prophesying, but should prove their utterances. Let all who claim to speak with the Holy Spirit give the exact words so that they can be subjected to legitimate tests. The same Spirit which showed to these disciples that suffering awaited Paul revealed unto him the same suffering and sent him forward into it.

IV. Paul Tarrying in Philip's House (vv. 7-14).

Resuming their journey they paused briefly at Ptolemais to greet the brethren there, after which they went to Caesarea. Here they took up their abode with Philip who had so successfully wrought in the early days of the church. His four daughters doubtless are mentioned to show that the Spirit's gifts are not confined to one sex.

V. Paul at Jerusalem (vv. 15-17).

The brethren at Jerusalem gladly received him and his companions. Paul's lodging place was with an old disciple.

REASONS WHY WOMEN SHOULD SUPPORT SMITH

By MRS. NELLIE TAYLOE ROSS, Ex-Governor of Wyoming
Vice-Chairman Democratic National Committee

1. He called the New York Legislature into special session, in 1919, to ratify the Nineteenth or Woman's Suffrage Amendment to the Constitution, in order to help secure nationally this privilege for women.

2. He has brought about increased pay for New York public school teachers, with an average doubling of the salaries of the women in the profession, demanding at the same time equal pay for women with men.

3. He ended the discrimination against women seeking positions under the New York civic service by refusing to allow appointing officials to specify that one sex only could take the examination.

4. He has urged the New York Legislature to remove from the statute books all laws that unjustly discriminate against women, but at the same time would not permit any changes to be made that might interfere with the statutes for the protection of women in the home and in industry.

5. He secured the forty-eight-hour law for New York, making a shorter week and day for women wage earners in factories and stores.

6. He secured the passage of laws ending child labor and the outrageous overwork of women in canneries in his state.

7. He stood for a minimum wage commission to assure a living wage to women and minors and would have secured the same had not the Republicans in the New York Legislature and Constitutional Convention defeated it.

8. He favors the creation of terminal markets and the proper distribution of food supplies so that the farmer and consumer will have deserved protection.

9. He favors ample school facilities and provisions for the education of children in rural districts. He believes their educational advantages should be as great as those afforded the children of the cities.

10. He will, if elected President, call all of the proper agencies of the Government at his command to his support in order to end profiteering in the necessities of life.

11. He had perfected the workmen's compensation law from which women workers receive benefits as well as men. The family of the working man also has profited from this legislation.

12. He secured the passage of the New York widow's pension law. Under its terms, generous provision has been made for women left penniless and allowances have been made for their minor children. Thus children have been kept under the care of their mothers rathr than of orphanages.

MISSISSIPPI BECOMING A GREAT DAIRY STATE

By Senator Joseph E. Ransdell of Louisiana.

I have read with the keenest interest and appreciation your article on the "Economic and Industrial Progress of the South," which appeared in your issue of August 9. The absorbing story of Southern renaissance—the most stirring instance of the "come back" of a prostrate people in all the range of history—has never been more graphically presented in a narrow compass than by you. This article should be reproduced in large numbers by the publicity departments of every Southern State and city and broadcast by the millions throughout the nation. Its plain recital without a trace of parisanship or exaggeration, and the masterly fashion in which facts and figures have been marshalled cannot fail to carry conviction to all readers.

With this in mind it is with hesitation I venture to suggest any additions to the text, and yet there have been outstanding developments in the lower delta of the Mississippi valley that are deserving of special emphasis in dealing with your subject.

I am delighted at the great prominence you give to the industries of many of our Southern States, for manufacture creates so much more wealth than agriculture. In this connection let me remind you that, according to your remarkable publication the Blue Book of Southern Progress for 1928, Louisiana is exceeded in the value of its manufactured products by only two States south of the Potomac, to wit, North Carolina and Texas.

The expansion in the iron and steel activities of Tennessee and Alabama, so graphically described, finds a parallel in the petroleum refining industry now established on the Mississippi River between Baton Rouge and New Orleans and elsewhere in Louisiana. Not only does the amount of its invested capital bear comparison with the recent developments of the United States Steel Corporation in Alabama, but the Standard Oil refinery at Baton Rouge, together with several oil refineries of other corporations in Louisiana, representing an aggregate value of more than $100,000,000, has made this state one of the most important refining centers in America for an industry that ranks in the popular imagination as equal in importance to iron and steel.

You state that every man who drives an automobile is indebted to the natural gas industry of Louisiana and Texas for carbon-black which prolongs the life of his automobile tires. But, he is no less indebted to the oil refining plants of these two States with an aggregate capacity of over 937,000 barrels a day for his supply of fuel.

In connection with natural gas, let me remind you that at Sterlington, on the Ouachita river, in North-East Louisiana, is one of the most unique enterprises in America, where 120,000 electric horsepower is being produced from gas at much smaller cost than by any waterpower plant; and the product is carried by wire to many homes, municipalities and industries in Arkansas, Mississippi and Louisiana.

Not only is oil carried in pipe lines and by rail and barge from the producing fields of our own country to refineries in Louisiana, but great fleets of steamers convey crude oil from Latin America to the refineries on the Mississippi and they have established at Baton Rouge, more than 200 miles from the Gulf, one of the greatest ports of sea borne commerce in America.

Along this same stretch of river are located several of the most important sugar-refining plants in the Union. One of these refineries at New Orleans is equal to any establishment of its kind in the world.

But it is not of this type of development so much as the newer enterprises that have been springing up in Louisiana and Mississippi territory of which I particularly desire to speak. Two examples are the dairying and paper industries. Both of them have been extremely active in this section and illustrate the spirit of the new South.

Mississippi is by long odds the leader of dairying in the South. Last year the farmers of that State produced a large volume of dairy products, far greater than any other Southern State and exceeded only by 17 States of the republic. Its dairy industry is growing by leaps and bounds. The nation's leading condensaries have established plants in Mississippi, and with her temperate climate and year-round pastures a dairy industry is rapidly developing which promises to rival that of the Northern and Western States where it has been the main source of their agricultural wealth. The aim of Mississippi is to place every farmer on a milk route which is another way of putting him on a monthly pay roll, instead of the old system of being paid once a year for his tobacco, rice, sugar, or cotton.

The pulp and paper industry is the natural result of the system of reforestation practiced in Louisiana for many years. This State was the pioneer in the adoption of a scientific plan for the conservation of her forests and Louisiana's laws relating to reforestation serve as models for her sister States. Large areas of her cut-over lands which in former years were burned over periodically are now being protected and replanted. There are seven paper and pulp mills in the State which produce daily 478 tons of paper, 748 tons of pulp and about 400 tons of fiber board. The total number of these mills in the rest of the Southern States is nine, which shows that Louisiana is the leader in this great Southern pulp and paper industry.—Baltimore Manufacturers Record.

GRENADA HI BULL-DOGS WIN AGAIN ON GRIDIRON

The Grenada High Bull-Dogs defeated the Kosciusko Tigers in a fast and hard fought game on the local field last Friday with a score of 18 to 0. Good gains were made on both sides by line plunges and end runs, Perkins, Lott, and Irby starred for Grenada.

The Kosciusko team held the Grenada line until the last part of the first quarter, and by one line plunge after the other, Lott carried the ball over the line. This seemed to help the spirit of the Grenada line, and they kept fighting until Perkins, breaking through the line, made the star run of the season.

In the last two minutes of the game, Irby took a pass off the arm of one of the Kosciusko men, and ran for a touchdown making a score of 18 to 0.

Smythe and McCool starred for Kosciusko.

Grenada takes pride in boasting of having one of the best high school coaches in the state of Mississippi. So far Grenada has played four games and has not been defeated.

Immediately after the game, a delicious banquet was served to the football players by the girls of the home economics department, under the splendid instruction of Miss Katie Mae Dear. The delicious dessert course was served by our sponsors, Misses Marianne Crenshaw and Dit Perry.

(By Mrs. E. R. Proudfit)

The fourth quarterly conference of the Grenada Methodist church, which held its last meeting for the conference year Tuesday night, was considered by far, the best of the entire year, in both a financial and spiritual way.

Reports from all organizations of the church were made. The pastor, Rev. J. H. Holder, gave a splendid report on the general state of the church. Mr. W. E. Jackson and Miss Lizzie Horn, reported on the work done in the Sunday School department. Harold LeDuke, president of the Epworth League made a report on league work. Mrs. E. S. Lewis, president of the Missionary Society, gave an unusually good report, it being the best of the entire district. Finances for the year, of the society made a total of $2500.

The amount of money raised by the entire church was around $40,000.00, a large part going toward the new church building.

Resolutions endorsing the work of Rev. E. S. Lewis, presiding elder, and his estimable wife, commending them for the work done by them during the past four years and expressing the deep regret of the entire membership at their leaving Grenada, were read by Dr. R. A. Clanton, of the Board of Stewards, Resolutions were offered by Mr. W. M. Mitchell and adopted, asking that Rev. J. H. Holder be returned as pastor of the Grenada church.

GRENADA HIGH PLAYS WEBB SCHOOL TODAY

Grenada High football team plays Webb High this (Friday) afternoon at 3:30 on the local field. Grenada has not been defeated this season and is a strong contender for the north Mississippi championship. Grenada should show its appreciation of the fine record the local eleven is making by attending its games. No enterprise can succeed without cooperation and the backing of its supporters. Grenada should encourage the boys by seeing the games and adding their voices to the cheering.

SICKLY, PEEVISH CHILDREN

Children suffering from intestinal worms are cross, restless and unhealthy. There are other symptoms, however. If the child is pale, has dark rings under the eyes, bad breath and takes no interest in play, it is almost a certainty that worms are eating away its vitality. The surest remedy for worms is White's Cream Vermifuge. It is positive destruction to the worms but harmless to the child. Price 35c. Sold by

REV. R. L. McLEOD WILL LECTURE ON HOLY LANDS

Rev. R. L. McLeod, Jr., pastor of the First Presbyterian Church will begin Sunday evening, Nov. 4, a series of lectures on the Holy Lands. Mr. McLeod spent sixteen weeks during 1924 in southern Europe and Asia. During that time he visited sixteen countries three of which, Syria, Palestine and Egypt, are countries of Bible fame. He has lectured at various times in Grenada, before the Rotary club, the high school and the college, on different phases of his trip and those who have heard him are eager to hear the entire series of talks. The full account of his tour of these three countries will probably furnish material for ten lectures. They will be given each Sunday evening in the auditorium of the First Presbyterian Church and all who have the opportunity should not fail to hear them.

RADIO INTERFERENCE CAUSE IS PARTIALLY REMEDIED

The great amount of radio interference that has been noticeable in Grenada for the past several weeks has been partially remedied by the correction of a transformer on the line of the Mississippi Power & Light Co. between Grenada and Tie Plant. Employees of the power company and R. D. Sharp, of Sharp Furniture Co., local radio dealers, spent several days locating the trouble. Mr. Sharp speaks most highly of the courtesy of the power company in its readiness and willingness to remedy the trouble and he believes that power company officials will at all times promptly act when they are informed of any interference that might occur.

YOUTHS PLEAD GUILTY TO COTTON STEALING

Clyde Rounsaville and Louis Liles, young white men residing in Grenada county across Bogue from Elliott, entered pleas of guilty when arraigned before Mayor Leverett, of Elliott, Wednesday on the charge of cotton stealing. They were placed under bonds of $500 each to await the action of the January grand jury. Thursday morning the two men were still in jail at Grenada, efforts having proved unsuccessful to make bond.

The arrest of these two men was the result of a clever piece of detective work upon the part of Sheriff Fred S. Nason and Constable R. M. Wood, who learned the identity of Rounsaville and Liles through the tracks of their automobile which was said to have been used to haul away the cotton and through their footprints.

The case was brought to the attention of the officers by G. L. Nail, of Elliott, who lost some seed cotton Thursday night. Rounsaville and Liles were arrested Friday afternoon and after vainly trying to establish an alibi, both confessed. Others from whom they are alleged to have stolen cotton are J. E. Carpenter and N. B. Smith. A total of 1320 pounds of seed cotton was lost by Messrs. Nail, Carpenter and Smith and all of it was alleged to have been sold to W. C. Boland and the Farmers' Gin at Calhoun City. It is understood that proceedings will be instituted against Mr. Boland and the gin to recover the value of the seed cotton, it being claimed that neither kept the record of the purchase required by law.

DISTRICT GOVERNOR VISITS GRENADA CLUB

Birney Imes, publisher of the Columbus Commercial Dispatch and governor of the 16th district of Rotary International, was the guest of honor at the meeting of the Grenada Rotary Club Tuesday, Oct. 23. Governor Imes is making a tour of the 27 clubs in his district and he went from here to Cleveland.

The district governor made one of the most inspiring addresses heard by the local club in a long while. He went into detail concerning the aims and the purposes of Rotary and cited many instances to show of the good it is doing in the 44 countries of the world in which it is established. He mentioned the international officers of the organization, telling of their business life and pointed out that Rotary engrossing the attention of many big men of the world, thereby signifying that Rotary should really mean something to its members and to the outside world. He congratulated the Grenada club on its fine attendance record for the month of September and called attention to the fact that November is to be especially stressed as attendance month when he hopes that this district will be listed among the high ten of the organization. The speaker closed his remarks with a beautiful illustration from a story by Tolstoi in which it was shown that selfishness in any way avails nothing.

Governor's Imes' visit to the Grenada club was enjoyed by the members and it is to be hoped that they will profit from what he said.

Other visitors were Rotarians Dr. T. J. Crofford, of Charleston, and Nelson Taylor, of Greenwood.

A committee consisting of John Rundle, Ben Adams and Paul Sisk, was appointed to draw up and submit to the next meeting resolutions on the passing of Rotarian B. C. Duncan, one of the most loved members of the club.

The inter-city meeting to be held tonight with the Water Valley and Charleston clubs at Water Valley was discussed and many expressed their intention of attending.

Just before making a plea for the Rotarians to give more hearty support to the high school boys in their athletic activities, R. L. McLeod voiced in behalf of the club and of the Highlander organization, thanks to Dr. Crofford for the professional attention given the youths on their camp at Tallaha some weeks ago.

Attendance Tuesday dropped considerably below what it has been for several weeks, six members being absent. Should they make their attendance elsewhere and the next week's meeting be 100%, Grenada will turn in the best month's record along this line it has ever had.

Like butter, much advertising when spread too thickly on the bread or on the newspaper page is nauseating.

Mrs. Patsy Aikens, one of our old citizens died last Thursday, Oct. 18th. She was in fairly good health, but had a sudden attack of indigestion which got beyond control. The funeral sermon was preached by her pastor, Rev. G. M. Chisholm, at Vincent M. E. church, of which she was a member for several decades. She had been twice married. Her first husband was Adam Marshal who preceded her to the grave 30 years ago. To that union 4 girls and 3 boys were born. Theodasia Eamestim, Willie and Ella. The boys were John, Ollion and Joseph. Theodasia of Arkansas, Ella of Oklahoma and Joseph of Charleston, survive to mourn her departure. A host of friends join in sympathy with the bereaved.

IF—

If all the sea was made of beer
And all the land of cheese,
And crayfish grew (already cooked)
Like leaves upon the trees,
And bank notes fell instead of rain
And all the grass was gold,
And summer days were not too hot
Nor winter ones too cold;
If houses sprouted in the night
And motor cars cost nil,
And everyone was full of vim
And no one ever ill;
If fowls laid ninety eggs a day
And work was said to be
A crime, and everybody lived
Three thousand years and three;
If every man had thirty wives
And all of them were dumb,
And diamonds grew like hazel nuts
And cows provided rum,
And cigarettes were three feet long
And politics were barred,
And loaves of bread were thick as logs
And measured by the yard;
If every horse we backed romped home
And everything was free,
And all the girls wore crepe de chine
And smiled at you and me,
And—well 'twould be a merry world,
But some perverted owl,
Some pessimistic, —— cow
Would find a cause to growl.

DE SOTO PRODUCTION REACHES 500 A DAY

That production of the Chrysler-built new DeSoto Six had reached nearly 500 cars a day by the end of September, was revealed by C. W. Matheson, DeSoto vice-president in charge of sales, from which it would appear that in less than two months after its announcement, the DeSoto Six is being produced on a scale never before attained by any other company in the same space of time.

The speed with which the production and sales of this new Chrysler product have been developed has certainly surprised the industry and the public.

DIZZY
Lost Appetite

Mr. M. F. Fink, of Harrisburg, N. C., says: "It must have been fully twenty-five years ago that I began taking Black-Draught regularly.

"I was in town one day, and while talking to a friend I stooped over to pick up something. When I straightened up, I felt dizzy. I spoke to him about this and how I had not felt like eating.

"My friend told me to take some Black-Draught. I knew my mother had used it, and so I bought a package. When I got home, I took a good, big dose, and the next night, another. In a few days I felt much better.

"A good many times I have had this dizziness and a bad taste in my mouth, or headaches, and then I take Black-Draught and get better. I do not have to take it very often. We buy from five to seven packages a year." Try it!

91st Birthday Party.

Old age has its peculiar charms and blessings no less than youth. As an instance of this, The Sentinel is reminded of a birthday party given Mrs. Jessie Heath on Oct. 21 at Eskridge, in honor of her 91st birthday. The life of this good woman runs back to the year 1837, during the time Martin Van Buren was serving as President. The mind almost staggers at what is comprehended in the ninety-one years past. This good woman is the mother of four living generations—Mrs. J. M. Windham is her daughter whose daughter married W. M. Miers and Mrs. Miers' daughter married Ralph Pottle and is the mother of Ralph, Jr. It is indeed a peculiar blessing to be spared to see ninety-one years. Her husband will also be ninety-one years old if he is spared to the 15th day of March, next. This aged woman enjoyed the privilege of having her two sisters, Mesdames Nail and Davidson, with her on this occasion and her only surviving brother, Mr. T. J. Little of Grenada.

A beautiful cake with nine large burning candles, each representing ten years and a tiny one in the middle standing for one year, added to the loveliness of the dining table when the dining room doors were thrown open and the guests bidden to enter. The table was laden with the richest edibles and peculiarly those things that it was thought would please the one in whose honor the dinner was given. Many reminiscences were indulged in while the dinner was being served. Mrs. Heath talked of old Carroll County, the place of her birth, and her husband came in with his experiences in Tennessee, the place of his birth. Shadow and sunshine, story and song played their part in what these old people thought of and talked about. Yet they were buoyant and optimistic and gave every evidence of fully appreciating that all they enjoy came from "Him who rules above and guides below". Mr. and Mrs. Heath were former residents of Grenada County and perhaps are better known here and have more ties that bind here than elsewhere. The Sentinel joins their many friends in wishing them many more birthdays and that the days ahead may radiate only heavenly sunshine.

Literary Societies Entertain.

The rushing season between the two literary societies at the college came to a close Monday evening at which time each society entertained its new members with a very delightful party.

The Cliftonians had planned to have a supper out at the Bledsoe Castle around a large bonfire but due to the rain had, at the last moment, to change their plans. They served a picnic supper in the White House and after there had been several stunts, stories, games and some music the guests were taken to the picture show. And despite the fact that everybody had looked forward to the outdoor picnic, they all seemed to have a very good time.

The Philomathean Society entertained its new members with a picture show party followed by a cabaret act in the lobby of the Annex. For this occasion the room was attractively decorated in the colors of the organization, lavender and green. The tables at which the guests were seated for serving were arranged around the walls of the room leaving the center vacant for the stunts which the hostesses gave. These included several musical skits and burlesque acts of an original nature. A delicious salad course was served to the guests at the close of the evening's entertainment.

Protestants Lead Smith Appointees

Conclusive proof that Governor Smith has never been controlled by political or religious influences is found in his appointments as Governor of New York.

Governor Alfred E. Smith

Statistics made public by Secretary of State Moses reveal that a great majority of the Governor's appointees are Protestants and that there are twice as many Republicans as Democrats in his Cabinet.

The Governor's Cabinet is comprised of 10 Protestants, 3 Catholics and 1 Jew. Of these 8 are Republicans, 4 are Democrats and 2 are Independents.

Of 25 State Department heads, 14 are Protestants and 11 are Catholics. Eight are Republicans, 3 are Independents and 14 are Democrats.

Of 156 other State officials whose appointments require the approval of the Governor, there are 105 Protestants, 33 Catholics, 11 Jews and 7 undesignated.

In every case, regardless of all other considerations, Governor Smith appointed the person he thought best fitted for the office.

BIGOTRY A BLUNDER

Hamilton Fish, Jr., Warns Hoover That Republican Success Is Jeopardized.

WASHINGTON.—Hamilton Fish, Jr., Republican representative from New York, has warned Chairman Work of the Republican National Committee, that the injection of the religious issue into the campaign by accredited Republican speakers will result in a clean sweep of New York and the Eastern states by Governor Smith.

Calling on Mr. Hoover, Mr. Fish told the Republican presidential candidate that he was "so disgusted with such political blunders" as are being committed by by the Hoover campaign managers that he contemplates abandoning his speaking tour in the East.

The Republican representative said he "informed Mr. Hoover that Republican leaders committed a stupid political blunder by forcing the nomination of Ambassador Houghton," which "would endanger the entire ticket and alienate labor and the World War veterans, and jeopardize the entire Republican ticket. The failure of the Republicans to nominate a single World War veteran . . . will be resented by the rank and file."

Mr. Fish advised that Mrs. Willebrandt and all others who are appealing to bigotry, be silenced "before irreparable harm has been done to the Republican ticket."

McLEAN HITS INTOLERANCE

RALEIGH, N. C.—A vigorous campaign for the election of Gov. Smith is being made throughout North Carolina by Governor A. W. McLean. Attacking religious intolerance, he said:

"I am ready to defend the right of Governor Smith and every other man or woman, whether Catholic or Protestant, to worship God in his own way.

"I am for Gov. Smith because I believe he is in every way qualified to fill the office of President."

CHURCH DECRIES BIGOTRY

HOOVER BRANDED ENEMY OF FARMER

Peek Proves That Candidate Was Responsible for Low Price of Wheat.

BORAH "EITHER IGNORANT OR GUILTY OF FRAUD"

CHICAGO—Senator Borah either is ignorant of Herbert Hoover's record or is "willfully guilty of fraud" in his campaign speeches to Western farmers, George N. Peek, noted farm leader and former chairman of the Industrial Conference Board of the Department of Commerce, has charged in a telegram to Dr. Hubert Work, chairman of the Republican National Committee.

Mr. Peek, who is active in behalf of Governor Smith because of the Governor's stand on the farm relief question, directly challenged the truth of Senator Borah's statements and the claims of the Republican campaign managers. He said:

"I realize that I am insisting upon a good deal when I demand fairness and facts from the Republican National Committee and its spokesmen, judging from the claims made in Mr. Hoover's behalf.

"Senator Borah in his address at Minneapolis raised a serious question of veracity as between himself and Mr. Hoover.

"Senator Borah asserts that Mr. Hoover held up the price of wheat. Moreover a large part of the Republican campaign among the farmers is built on this claim. This is fraud.

"The records prove that if wheat had not been 'controlled' the price would have risen, as did the prices of other cereal crops that were not controlled. It would have advanced, as corn advanced and as oats advanced, and would have sold for at least $3.48 a bushel.

"I say that Mr. Hoover used every effort in his power to keep down prices, and I submit in proof of this assertion Mr. Hoover's own words.

Held Prices Down

"Early in April, 1919, Mr. Hoover from Europe addressed a cablegram to me, from which I now quote.

"'If the control of wheat were removed during the next two or three months in the face of the world situation, prices in this commodity would advance materially beyond the present level. I wish to repeat that unless some superior force intervenes, we intend to hold the price of wheat to the figures it has stood at during the entire war under Congressional guarantee.'

"On May first, 1918, Mr. Hoover, then Food Administrator, in a public address declared:

"'I agree with the contention of some farmers that they would be getting $5 and perhaps $10 a bushel for their wheat if it had not been for the restraint imposed by the Government.'

"I repeat that either Senator Borah and other Republican leaders are wholly ignorant of the 'record' which Senator Borah so persistently quotes, or he or they are guilty of fraud.

"I insist that you and other Republican leaders inform Senator Borah, other speakers and the public whether the cable from Mr. Hoover in 1919 or the claims of Republican leaders now as presented in the campaign textbook and in the public statements of republican speakers are a fraud.

"Somebody is not telling the truth. The public will be interested in knowing who it is."

In a speech in New York City, on April 22, 1920, reviewing the work done by his Food Administration, Mr. Hoover said:

"The Grain Corporation was successfully managed by Mr. Barnes. In 1917 the wheat price was $2.20 per bushel. The farmers could have obtained $5 per bushel."

Republican Editor Assails G. O. P. In Reply to Letter Asking Support

WASHINGTON.—The attitude of the intelligent Western farmer who has studied the causes of his present predicament, and who realizes what a continuance of the Coolidge policies would mean to him, is strikingly set forth in a letter received by Herbert N. Strause, of the Republican Business Men, Inc., from Willis A. Wells, Republican editor of the Webster (S. Dak.) Journal.

The South Dakota editor had been asked by Mr. Strause to support Herbert Hoover and to send a reply which could be published. Here is the reply:

"You request that I join the Republican Business Men, Inc., of your city, in promoting the election of Mr. Hoover upon the sole ground that "he will carry out the Coolidge policies." Your plea leaves me as cold as the ice fields of a polar sea.

"As a Republican I enthusiastically decline to do any such fool thing. I am for Hoover just about as far as you can throw our party elephant by the pin feathers with your arm broken in four places.

"Out in the West, where men are mortgaged up to the eyebrows and farm work begins at sunrise, we are so opposed to a continuance of the Coolidge policies that if I wrote you what I think it wouldn't look good in print, and so I shall modify my expressions.

"Under the Coolidge policies, which Mr. Hoover is pledged to continue, we have had more farm bankruptcy and more rural distress than has existed since our pioneers came West in covered wagons and conquered the prairies.

"You really have no realization of what these Coolidge policies have done to a great and flourishing agricultural section of the country.

"Farm lands have depreciated $30,000,000,000 in value. Fifty thousand business men have gone broke. Four thousand rural banks have failed.

"While Coolidge was President, Congress, representing the people, passed farm relief bills twice and twice the man higher up vetoed them. That is the paramount Coolidge policy. We have been fooled twice. Don't think, my Wall St friend, you can do it again."

ENTHUSIASTIC FOR SMITH

Capt. Provine Long a Baptist But Orders Baptist Record Stopped.

Capt. Bob. Provine of Big Creek was in Grenada the latter part of last week and took time while here to again proclaim himself enthusiastically for Gov. Al Smith for President. Capt. Provine is one of the best known characters in Mississippi. He is nearing his 90th mile post on life's highway but is still vigorous of mind and body and talks with the enthusiasm and the fire of youth. He gave four years of his life to the cause of the Confederacy and as the years pass, he seems to pin his faith even more strongly to the Democratic party. He has been one of those who never straddled a proposition. He has always got on one side of the fence or the other. He thinks Gov. Smith one of the greatest statesmen of the day and asserts that he believes he would come more nearly giving every man and every interest a square deal than almost any other man that could have been named by the Democartic party, and certainly, he states, does he think him far better equipped for the presidency than his chief opponent.

Capt. Provine has long been a prohibitionist and is yet, but he believes Gov. Smith will do exactly what he says and that if there is any way to better the prohibition situation by amending the law, he is for it, he says.

Among the many things touching the campaign, he referred to the activity of so many of the ministry; he deprecated this, and stated that while he had always loyally supported the Baptist church and its institutions, he balked on the amount of anti-Al Smith matter in the state organ of the Baptist church, the Record, and had ordered it discontinued.

GRENADA SCHOOL ELEVEN BIDS FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

According to an Associated Press story written by Drew Shankle, which came out of Columbus Wednesday, the Grenada high school football team, undefeated as yet this season, has a splendid chance to cop the North Mississippi championship and go into the finale next month.

The story in part says "in north central Mississippi Grenada is virtually conceded the championship, having won over every opponent by large scores. In the delta Greenwood and Greenville appear to have the strongest squads with the Leflore boys being favorites to win out. In the other north Mississippi region, the northeast part, Columbus and Amory will fight for the title with Columbus almost certain winners.

"The North Mississippi champion will therefore be one of the three teams, it is indicated, Grenada, Greenwood and Columbus. Little is known of Grenada's strength against teams out of the north central district however, and whether or not teams in that section are as a whole weaker than in the delta and northeast, is not known.

"Greenwood has a squad averaging well over 160 pounds and a veteran backfield that has rolled up big scores. Columbus Lee High Generals have an average of 169 and are dangerous contenders. Grenada will probably weigh less but it is believed the team is faster than the other two.

"With the situation clarified to five strong teams so early in the season great games and a thrilling finish in north Mississippi is the forecast."

Gov. Smith Convinces Big Business Men That Farm Prosperity Will Aid Industry

That Governor Smith, in his determined stand in behalf of agriculture, has already accomplished great things for the farmer becomes more apparent every day.

Governor Smith is convincing the important business men of the East that prosperity of agriculture means as much to them as it does to the farmer himself. The indifference of the East to farm legislation is disappearing. For eight years the business interests of the East in general have accepted Herbert Hoover's belief that agriculture's gain would be industry's loss.

Governor Smith has undertaken to show them how essential it is to increase the prosperity of the farmer, and thus to increase the buying power of one-third of the national population for manufactured products.

Announcing his support for Governor Smith, Owen D. Young, Chairman of the General Electric Company, said:

"On this farm problem, we must affirmatively move, because staying here will spell disaster. I believe in Governor Smith's capacity to lead the American people to action.

"I am supporting Governor Smith because I believe in his willingness and his capacity to put the farmers of this country on an equality with its industry. I am tired of hearing of farm relief as though the farmers of this country, as a class to whom all my people belonged, are the kind of men who stand with their hats in their hands begging alms in the shape of Government doles.

"They ask for an equality of economic opportunity, and they are entitled to it. Not only must they be given it politically because it is right, but they must be given it from an economic standpoint if the prosperity of this country is to continue."
